

The Mansfield Shield of the following day, Friday, gives an account of the latter part of the session, and of the creation of the Centennial Commission, and is copied in full, as follows:

TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL.

Preliminary Steps Taken Towards Commemorating the Founding of the City—A Most Interesting Meeting.

The Mansfield Centennial Commission, to make arrangements for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of Mansfield to be held in June, 1908, was authorized at the meeting of the Richland County Historical Society, Thursday afternoon, at the G. A. R. hall. Former Mayor Huntington Brown was selected as president of the commission with power to select the members of his cabinet. The commission will consist of from 7 to 9 members and Chairman Brown after accepting the honor bestowed upon him announced as secretary of the commission, A. J. Baughman, the well known historical writer and will name the other members of the commission shortly. Thus the preliminary steps have been taken toward commemorating in a fitting manner the beginning of Mansfield, the founding dating from the 11th of June, 1808, when the surveying party began its work of plating the town.

The Richland Historical Society meeting yesterday was one of the most interesting ever held in Mansfield.

Quite a number of visitors were here from surrounding counties and there were interesting addresses and reminiscences.

THE INDIAN VILLAGE OF GREENTOWN, 1782 TO 1812.

