

Sat. July 9

Not quite as well as usual.

Sun. July 10

Mon. June 11 (the months written here must have been July)

Tues. June 12

Took a walk to Hd. Qrs.

Wed. June 13

The funeral of four soldiers was preached in this ward this A.M. by Chaplain Fitch. One of the men died in this ward yesterday morning.

Thurs. July 14

Had prayer meeting here this afternoon.

Fri. July 15

Feel pretty well today.

Sat. July 16

Father came to see me and take me home.

Sun. July 17

My furlough has not come and Father is getting a transfer to Columbus, Ohio.

Mon. July 18

Father went to Louisville but got no transfer. Very warm today.

Tues. July 19

My transfer was made out today. I expect to start for Ohio tomorrow.

Wed. July 20

Today started up the river on the mail boat. Maj. Anderson went from the hospital to the boat in an ambulance. So far boat riding agrees with me very well.

Thurs. July 21

Arrived at Cincinnati at daylight. Waited until 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ A.M. when we took a train for Columbus. I stood the trip very well. I felt a little sick when we arrived at the station here at Columbus. The _____ of eating so much pie, I think. After Father had reported and delivered the transfer, we got aboard a street car and rode to Seminary Hospital Columbus, Ohio where I am at present. I like the appearance of things very much. The Dr. seems a fine man and well posted. He recommended me for a furlough.

Fri. July 22

Wrote a letter to Fred Harding. Have been in bed very little. I walked around more than usual and my legs feel quite sore this evening.

Sat. July 23

Pleasant day. I walked around considerable. Feel tired and sore. A lady belonging here brought me a glass of grape jelly which is delightful.

Sun. July 24

Everything quiet and orderly. No stylish inspection like many places.

Mon. July 25

Cool day with a nice shave.
